

Webinar on Animal Science and Veterinary

Webinar on Veterinary & Animal Science has been successfully completed on December 05, 2020 at 04:00 PM (UTC + 05:30). It was an innovative and worthwhile event focusing on the advancement of veterinary & animal science in the 21st century and offers an extensive redirection to the veterinary professionals coming from both academia and industry. The size and diversity of our advertising options, including banners, sponsored emails, article alerts or newsletters, provide clients with the very best customized marketing opportunities in science and medicine.

scientific sessions at Animal Science and Veterinary Webinar includes Veterinary, Animal Growth & Development, Genetics and Animal Breeding, Veterinary Medicine, Animal Nutrition & Well Being, Veterinary & Animal Science, Agriculture, Animals and the Environment, Dairy Food Production & Quality Control, Animal Biotechnology, Animal Husbandry and Modern Agriculture, Animal live stock production.

Speakers at Animal Science and Veterinary Webinar:

- Kulyash Meiramkulova from L.N.Gumilyov Eurasian National University, Russia presented his talk on “Reducing the technogenic impact on water resources with water”
- Sineka Munidasa The University of Melbourne, Australia presented his talk on “Can developed country knowledge help developing country to quantify dairy cattle greenhouse gas emissions?”